

Natural Splendour Purulia

Photograph pix 1

The undulating topography, calm serenity and bountiful nature - the cathedral like silence of dense forests, bird calls and wild life , beautiful flora and fauna, picturesque hills and hillocks, waterfalls, rivers, rivulets and streams make Purulia a truly charming place to visit and enjoy. In 1805, a jungle Mahals district composed of 23 Parganas and mahals including the present Purulia was formed.

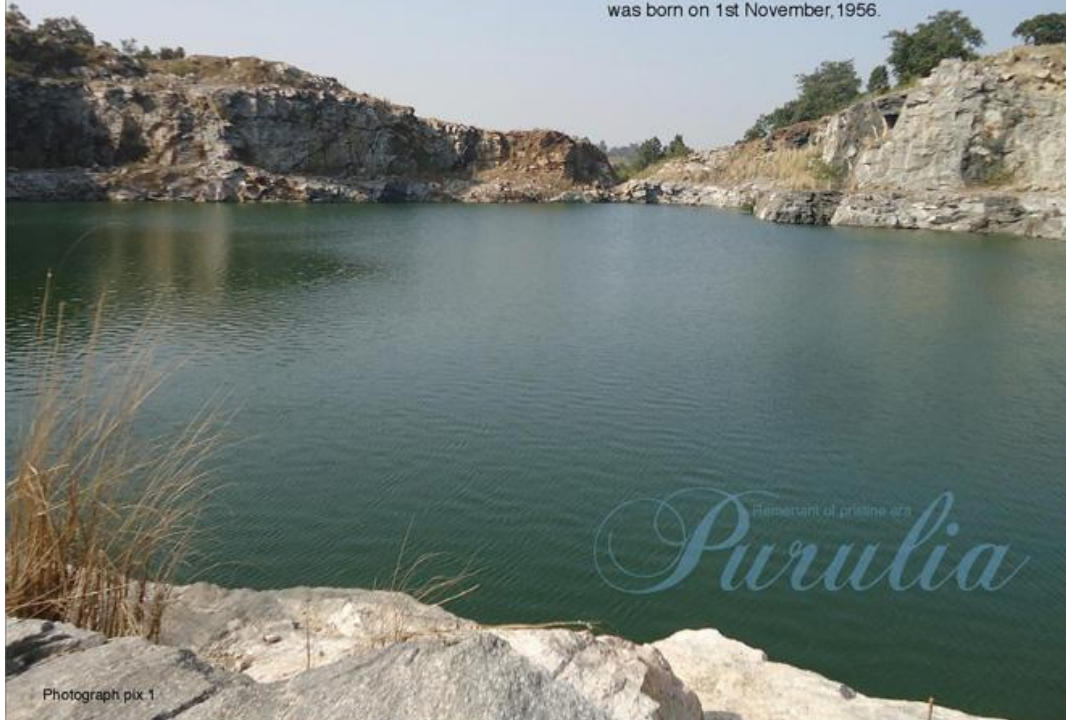

Photograph pix 1

Photograph pix 1

In 1833 the jungle Mahals district was broken up and a new district called Manbhum was constituted with headquarters at Manbazar. Finally in 1956 Manbhum district was partitioned between Bihar and West Bengal and the present district Purulia was born on 1st November, 1956.

Photograph pix 1

Remnant of pristine era
Purulia

Photograph pix 1

Places to Visit

The most attractive places to visit in Purulia are the natural old growth forests of Ajodhya, Matha and Kulipal. The cascading water falls like Bamni, Thurga and Dauri Khal. The pristine tribal habitations of Ajodhya and Bagmundih. Great and picturesque dams like Panchet, Murguma, Keshto Bazaar and Koyrabera.

Photograph pix 1